Profile

Stephanie Emmanuel-De Luna is an Associate with Marks, O'Neill, O'Brien, Doherty & Kelly. She is admitted to practice in Delaware, Pennsylvania, the U.S. District Court of Delaware, New Jersey and Florida.

Stephanie graduated from Lehigh University, with a dual bachelor's degree in political science and psychology. She then attended Rutgers University School of Law.

During law school, she served on the board of Alianza, and was involved in the Street Law Pro Bono Program. Stephanie also interned at the Montgomery County Public Defender's Office and worked with the Rutgers Small Business Administration.

Prior to joining Mark's O'Neill, Stephanie worked in a law firm representing clients in family law and personal injury matters.

Since joining Marks O'Neill, Stephanie has focused her practice on product liability, transportation, premises liability, personal injury, professional liability and workers' compensation matters.

Outside of work, Stephanie enjoys spending time with her family and traveling. On her own, Stephanie enjoys attending concerts and undertaking DIY projects at home.
